Police seek info on Sargent Park assault

A 22-year-old woman was the victim of a major sexual assault on Tuesday in the Sargent Park area, police say. The woman was accosted by an unknown assailant and dragged into a yard where police say she was attacked at about 1:30 a.m. She was badly injured but managed to break free and call 911. Anyone with information is urged to call police at 986-6245.

Vehicle checks looming

Police warn they'll be out doing roadside vehicle inspections all summer to ensure roadworthiness. Sgt. Doug Safioles said a recent inspection of 113 commercial vehicles saw 34 per cent placed out of service because of defects, and a further 29 failed the check.

"The failure rate is quite high," Safioles said. "That could be devastating if there was a collision."

Sentence softened for teen who killed cabbie

▶ Judge to issue reasons for change in stance in two weeks ▶ Teen has history of court-order violations while in the community

JAMES TURNER
@METRONEWS.CA

A teen who killed a Winnipeg taxi driver while driving a speeding, stolen SUV has been given a major break that will see him return to society sooner than expected.

Justice Lea Duval ruled yesterday that the boy, now 18, can start temporary leaves into the community as of August.

The youth had been ordered to spend two years behind bars and a third year under house arrest last summer, after being convicted of criminal negligence causing death in an accident that killed taxi driver Antonio Lanzellotti in March 2008. At the time, he was in breach of conditions of court orders.

"I wish you good luck, both for yourself and in the interests of our community, because we don't want anyone else getting hurt while you're out there."
JUSTICE LEA DUVAL, TO A TEEN WHO KILLED WINNIPEG TAXI DRIVER ANTONIO LANZELLOTTI

Duval had previously ruled that the teen's jail portion of his youth sentence was to be served entirely behind bars, but softened it at the request of his defence lawyer, who said he's made great strides toward rehabilitation while in custody.

Duval's decision comes just a few weeks after the Manitoba Court of Appeal upheld Duval's original penalty when the teen argued it was too stiff.

In Canadian youth sentences, jail time is typically split between "closed" and "open" custody, meaning part of the sentence is spent in custody and the other under supervision in the community. In the teen's case, he appealed the fact that no "open" custody had been allotted.

The Crown — which tried to have the teen sentenced as an adult — was opposed to any changes in his sentence.

In August, he'll be eligible for gradual temporary absences from jail that, if they go well, could see him back in the community for up to 30 days at a time.

The Crown warned that the courts would have no control over him on the absences, which will be monitored by corrections and probation officials.

▶ Radio host Ace Burpee wants all Manitobans to pledge not to riot once Winnipeg's NHL team makes the Stanley Cup final.

ELISHA DACEY
@METRONEWS.CA

Like most Winnipeggers, Hot 103 morning show host Ace Burpee was disgusted by television footage showing Vancouver fans rioting after Game 7 of the Stanley Cup final.

"It made (Canada) look bad," said Burpee. "When a story goes international, they always say the country first."

Thinking this could potentially happen in Winnipeg, Burpee decided to reach out to his listeners Thursday morning and ask them to pledge not to riot.

The response was overwhelming, said Burpee, with hundreds of people signing up for the pledge on the station's Facebook page and commenting on the idea.

"I ... as a super-awesome Manitoban, vow that when Winnipeg makes the Stanley Cup final (and we will), that win or lose, I will not riot."

FULL TEXT OF ACE BURPEE'S PLEDGE

"I was at the (Winnipeg) Chamber luncheon, where Mark Chipman was speaking, and that was the comment to me, that people were thinking the same thing," said Burpee.

Burpee said he didn't think something similar will happen in Winnipeg. "I think that the entire country learned a lesson," said Burpee.

Vancouver sets ugly new standard

One official says violence worse than 1994 City police, mayor and British Columbia's premier vow to get tough on rioters

MATT KIELTYKA
@METRONEWS.CA

Vancouver has outdone itself.

Seemingly living under the shadow of the city's 1994 Stanley Cup riots for 17 years, hooligans and vandals set an ugly new standard Wednesday night as chaos engulfed the city following the Canucks' Game 7 loss to the Boston Bruins.

When all was said and done, 15 cars had been torched, nearly 100 people had been arrested, scores of people had been sent to hospital, dozens of storefronts had been smashed and looted and firefighters had responded to 387 incidents throughout the city.

One man wearing a Boston Bruins jersey was seriously injured after falling off an overpass.

Vancouver police chief Jim Chu said there were about three times as many rioters wreaking havoc downtown than in 1994.

"I was out in '94 and I've seen more damage ... than in '94," said Murray Wightman, the manager of city operations, Thursday morning in the aftermath of the riot.

Investigators are reviewing video and photographic evidence from the public to identify suspects.

Volunteers take time to clean city, reputation

Embarrassment and anger over the Stanley Cup riot brought volunteers to Vancouver's downtown Thursday in a massive effort to clean the city's streets and its soiled reputation.

"I'm clearing up other peoples' mess," said volunteer Annabel Heath. "I'm from the U.K., and this is my safe place. It shouldn't be ruined by other people being stupid."

Tim McMillan with the department of sanitation provided volunteers with equipment.

"It sounds like close to 1,000 people showed up, and the city is as clean as I've ever seen it," he said. "I think this really shows what the city's made of and what kind of character it has."

Nearby, plywood sheets covering the destroyed windows of The Bay became an impromptu shrine to the city's regret and outrage.

CF-18 fighters strike Tripoli

- Military spokesman says bombing runs target command-and-control elements of Gadhafi's forces
- Parliament extended mission to end of September

Canadian warplanes have bombed the Libyan capital of Tripoli.

A Canadian Forces spokesman confirms that CF-18 jet fighters took part in four days of targeted strikes last weekend.

But the spokesman could not say whether any of the strikes came close to hitting Libyan dictator Moammar Gadhafi.

The Canadian jets were involved in day and night raids on Tripoli, which has recently been the focus of more intense NATO bombing.

They struck at depots housing armoured vehicles in an attempt to degrade Gadhafi's command-and-control structures.

6 Canada has six fighter jets taking part in the NATO-led bombardment enforcing a United Nations resolution to protect civilians from Gadhafi.

The latest NATO strike near Gadhafi's compound rattled windows across the heart of the capital, producing thunderous concussions and smoke billowing into the air.

NATO launched its air campaign nearly three months ago under a United Nations resolution to protect civilians. What started as a peaceful uprising inside the country against Gadhafi and his more than four-decade rule has become a civil war.

Fighting between government forces and the rebels had reached a stalemate until last week when NATO launched the heaviest bombardment of Gadhafi forces since the alliance took control of the skies over Libya.

Two sides reach deal in airline strike

ANDREW VAUGHAN/THE CANADIAN PRESS

▶ Airports from Vancouver to Halifax (above) saw no major disruptions in service after Air Canada front-line staff walked off the job on Tuesday. Strikers are set to go back to work.

◗ Workers set to return on Friday ◗ Labour minister credits government intervention for quick end to strike

A tentative collective agreement ending a strike by Air Canada staff contains pay increases, but it will be up to an arbitrator to settle a dispute over pension plans for new hires.

Ken Lewenza, president of the Canadian Auto Workers, said the deal includes higher wages and addresses quality of life and other issues raised by members.

But he said it does not settle the issue of defined-benefit pensions.

3,800
Some 3,800 Air Canada customer-service and other staff walked off the job Tuesday.

Lewenza said the union agreed to send the pension issue to an arbitrator in order to minimize the strain on the striking workers.

"For us to prolong the strike as a result of future (hires) would absolutely make no sense at this time, but it will give us an opportunity in future years to bargain on behalf of those new hires," Lewenza said.

He said there would be "very slight modifications" to the current pension plan, which would become effective in 2013. Details will not be released until after a ratification vote.

The tentative four-year settlement came less than an hour after Ottawa tabled legislation that would have forced the workers back on the job. THE CANADIAN PRESS

Hydro-Quebec rolls out EV stations

Hydro-Quebec is teaming with several well-known companies to offer Canada's first charging stations for electric vehicles.

Home renovations company Rona Inc., Rotisseries St-Hubert chicken restaurant, grocer Metro and Montreal's suburban transit agency AMT will offer 100 EV stations in Montreal and Quebec City in early 2012.

Each will provide 240 volts of electricity, allowing motorists to travel 25 kilometres after one hour of charging.

The public utility expects to add quick-charging stations of at least 400 volts that give an EV enough power to travel 50 kilometres in just 10 minutes, or 80 per cent of the battery's capacity in 30 minutes.

$2 Motorists will be charged $2 for each single use of the EV stations and access to a prime parking spot.

The companies assured on Thursday that the charge stations won't be restricted to use only by their customers. THE CANADIAN PRESS

High-flying loonie could see auto profits plummet

The strong loonie is driving up the cost of Canadian employees, which could put pressure on auto-parts and vehicle makers to send more jobs to the U.S. and Mexico where labour costs are lower, an independent think-tank says.

The Conference Board of Canada predicts a continued recovery in the auto industry on the back of soaring demand for vehicles in the U.S., providing substantial opportunity for the Canadian sector. But that growth potential will not necessarily benefit Canadian workers in the auto-parts and vehicle-assembly sectors, the board warns.

A high loonie adds to labour costs in Canada relative to developing countries and makes Canadian exports less cost-competitive, which is prompting auto companies to look south when they make decisions about where to set up new plants, the board said.

"Furthermore, wages of Canadian auto workers are at risk of moving out of line with those of their American counterparts," the board said.

The auto industry and its offshoots, key components of Canada's economy, have enjoyed a swift turnaround since last year after struggling to maintain profits during the economic downturn of 2008-09.

But the board says auto-parts makers Magna International, MartinRea and Linamar could be forced to lower prices to compete with foreign manufacturers. THE CANADIAN PRESS

DIFFERENT TYPE OF VIRAL KISS

THE METRO LIST

NEIL MORTON
METRO

1 The iconic image: Couple kissing during riots. It was an absolutely horrible Wednesday night in Vancouver. The Canucks lost Game 7 to Boston and then the riots broke out downtown. But the ray of sunshine was an image snapped by a photographer of a couple lying on a tear-gas filled street making out, with riot police in the fore- and background. It's gone viral, and now the whole world is wondering who this mystery couple is.

2 Dirk. The lone superstar of the Dallas Mavericks, Dirk Nowitzki, outplays the superstar trio of LeBron James/Dwyane Wade/Chris Bosh to lead the Mavs to their first NBA title. A dynasty does not begin in Miami. Dirk, meanwhile ... well, he is now recognizable by one name (take that LeBron), and will go down as one of the Top 20 players of all time. (Oh, and there was no rioting in Miami.)

3 Can I be your friend? A man decides to test the etiquette of Twitter and Facebook in the real world by approaching strangers with lines like, "Can I be your friend?" and "Can I write on your wall?" and "Could I poke you?"and "I'm going to follow you." The video he makes is hilarious and has more than 700,000 views on YouTube.

4 Alice's Bucket List. A 15-year-old girl with terminal cancer has become an inspiration to the whole world. She has started a blog, Alice's Bucket List, which lists the many things she still wants to do with her time on Earth. Some tangible, some a dream. Such as: "To make everyone sign up to be a bone marrow donor, to swim with sharks, to go to Kenya (I can't travel there now but I wanted to)." As she says on her blog, "You only have one life ... live it!" So true.

5 A book on Charlie Sheen? Denise Richards is writing a tell-all memoir about her marriage — and nasty divorce — to Charlie Sheen to be released late July. And then she will likely go on a tour. But here's hoping it's nothing like her ex's Violent Torpedo of Truth tour disaster.

6 Air Canada strike over! The feds announced back-to-work legislation, and soon after Air Canada and the Canadian Auto Workers union reached a tentative deal. And across Canada, striking customer-service agents at airports were screaming with delight. The flying public is about to get its best customer service ever with the good mood these agents are in.

7 Reality TV gets real. Many thought Gene Simmons and longtime girlfriend Shannon Tweed were just putting us on when they went on the Today Show Monday and talked about the disintegration of their relationship. But it wasn't just a ratings ploy to get us to watch the season premiere of Gene Simmons Family Jewels. Their relationship is, in fact, coming apart due to his philandering, and watching that episode was one of the more painful, awkward episodes of reality TV ever. Period.

Worth mentioning

LOS ANGELES. Astronomers think they have solved the mystery of an extraordinary flash spied in a faraway galaxy, saying it came from a massive black hole that devoured a star after it wandered too close.

Some scientists initially thought the bright flash was a gamma-ray burst from a star collapsing, but flaring from such an event typically lasts only a few hours.

Instead of fading, the cosmic outburst continued to burn bright and emit high-energy radiation months later.

Two separate teams pored through data and concluded that an unsuspecting star the size of our sun likely got sucked in by the powerful tug of a giant black hole much like a fly that can't escape a frog resting on a lily pad.

As the black hole gobbled up the star, it streamed a beam of energy straight at Earth that was recorded by telescopes. The stellar feast occurred in the heart of a galaxy 3.8 billion light years from Earth. A light year is about 9.66 trillion kilometres.

Fashion you can sink your teeth into

Lady Gaga made history at last year's MTV Video Music Awards when she turned butcher's cuts into high fashion.

On Thursday, the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame was prepared to unveil the singer's infamous raw-meat dress to the public. The dress — made of layers of Argentinian beef — was kept in a meat locker, placed in a vat of chemicals and then dried out by taxidermists in California before being transported to the museum.

Hall of Fame spokeswoman Margaret Thresher said the dress took on a "dark, beef-jerky" look while dehydrating, so it was painted to look "fresh" afterwards. The entire process took several months to complete.

The dress is being displayed as part of the Women Who Rock: Vision, Passion, Power exhibit, which runs until February 2012.

Scene in brief

The X-Men, soon to end in just a few more issues, won't be gone for long. Two new titles will replace Marvel Comics' longest-running current series in November as it draws a 48-year run to a close with issue No. 544. Two separate teams calling themselves X-Men will take root this fall.

Plot synopsis

- Loosely based on the classic 1938 children's book, the movie sees Jim Carrey playing the title character, a ruthless NYC real estate agent who becomes closer to his estranged family when he inherits a penguin from his late father. Through a series of misunderstandings one penguin becomes six. As the penguins take over his life, Popper's formerly flightless personal life starts to soar.

Lots to like in Penguins

◗ Richard Crouse and Mark Breslin agree Mr. Popper's Penguins is a surprise hit ◗ Will appeal to the kids, with enough story to keep adults interested

Reel Guys

RICHARD CROUSE & MARK BRESLIN
SCENE@METRONEWS.CA

Richard Crouse: Mark, Jim Carrey is back acting opposite wildlife, but unlike the Ace Ventura movies, this time he's not talking out of his bum, or doing anything that parents may take issue with. Mr. Popper's Penguins is total family entertainment, paced for young ones but with enough story to keep older kids and parents interested. I dreaded this one but actually ended up enjoying it.

Mark Breslin: Me too, Richard. I'm not a big fan of Jim Carrey movies, but this time the comedian keeps his cartoony instincts in check and brings an easy naturalness to the role. The penguins make great foils for Carrey as they are the comedians of the animal world. With their tuxedo pelts, paunches and big noses they look like standup comics from the '50s.

RC: Ha! They do provide most of the laughs in the film, but I'm not sure I would classify this as a comedy. Carrey has a few funny moments, the penguins — who could be more rightly called Mr. Popper's Pooping Penguins — engage in some animal antics, and Popper's "p" popping personal assistant takes alliteration to new heights, but the movie is more about heart than humour.

MB: Maybe that's why I liked it so much: Carrey wasn't working so hard to be "on" all the time. I also appreciated the New York setting, though I found it bizarre that Popper was trying to raze, then save Tavern On The Green when it was just closed and slated for demolition last year. I guess the penguins aren't the only fantasy elements in the film!

RC: It is a fantasy film with a nice even tone for families, but I'm curious what sort of movie it might have been if the original director Noah Baumbach had been behind the camera. He's best known for making edgy family dramas like Squid and the Whale. Mr. Popper's Penguins might have been more interesting to mom and dad if he had directed, but as it is it will appeal to kids, particularly if they've read the book.

MB: I love Baumbach, but I can only imagine his direction would have led to The Squid, the Whale and the Penguins, about a dysfunctional family with lots of flipper wringing. No, the movie ain't broke, so let's not fix it. You're right, it's a great family picture, but also — dare I say this — a good date movie. I may not know much about life, Richard, but I do know this: chicks dig penguins!

▶ Cameron Diaz in Bad Teacher.

Bad Teacher is 'genius,' says Diaz

NED EHRBAR
SCENE @METRONEWS.CA

Considering how Cameron Diaz's character behaves in Bad Teacher, the title is something of an understatement.

She smokes pot in the school parking lot. She assaults students for getting questions wrong. She accepts "tutoring money" from parents in exchange for A's for their children.

Her sole motivation is earning enough money for a boob job so she can snag a rich husband. The character is crass, deceitful and usually hungover — in other words, far from glamorous or sympathetic. But that's exactly what Diaz liked about her.

"There was absolutely not one ounce of energy spent trying to make anything about this character likeable. It was genius," says Diaz. "Usually, you spend the last 20 minutes of the movie trying to apologize for the first hour and a half of it because people are afraid of just owning what it is."

Diaz, who has done arguably her best work in comedies with some bite to them, doesn't hold back in her latest role, and it pays off. But given the material, she couldn't really pull any punches.

"Thirty pages into the script, I was like, 'There's no way I'm playing this character. How could I ever redeem her? There's no redemption for her, this is a horrible person,'" she remembers. "Then 10 pages later I was like, 'I think I like her.' And by the end I was like, 'This is amazing because I don't have to apologize.'"

Of course, even in a cavalcade of bad behaviour like Bad Teacher, there are some situations Diaz and director Jake Kasdan thought would be going too far, like featuring a teacher-student romance. "The one thing that Elizabeth doesn't do — one line she doesn't cross — is taking on a seventh grader," Diaz says. "That's the one thing she doesn't do, thankfully."

The Green Lantern
Genre: Action
Director: Martin Campbell
Stars: Ryan Reynolds, Peter Sarsgaard, Blake Lively
●●½
Seven decades after debuting as a DC comic book, The Green Lantern comes to the big screen with Ryan Reynolds as Hal Jordan, a daredevil test pilot who reluctantly becomes an intergalactic guardian as part of the Green Lantern Corp. Equipped with a magic ring and a snappy green Lone Ranger mask he protects Earth from the evil Parallax.

First the good stuff. The idea that the Parallax feeds off people's fear is a terrifying premise and Peter Sarsgaard's transformation from nerdy Hector to nerdy Hector-with-a-huge-head provides some fun Jekyll and Hyde moments, but the film is bogged down by an overreliance on CGI.

Because everyone knows anything is possible when you bang together the right bits of binary code, computer-generated action no longer "wows" audiences. So why does director Martin Campbell paint every frame with computer images? Even Jordan's silly little green mask is computer-generated. Was the costumer off the day he needed to don the disguise?

The Art of Getting By Genre: Drama
Director: Gavin Wiesen
Stars: Freddie Highmore, Emma Roberts
●●
The Art Of Getting By has its moments, but suffers from a pretty serious problem. The main character is a teenager who decides he doesn't want to do homework because he thinks there are more important things in life. He wants to paint, but has no inspiration. He loves a girl, but can't tell her. First-time director Gavin Wiesen creates a pretty funny and insightful look at adolescent indifference. Unfortunately, there's a lack of dramatic thrust built into the subject matter.

Aguilera sharing the blame for her divorce

Says that her, Jordan Bratman weren't angels Split up for their child

ALL PHOTOS GETTY IMAGES

Christina Aguilera

Christina Aguilera is opening up about her recent divorce, telling W Magazine that she and ex-husband Jordan Bratman share the blame for it ending.

"At one time or another we were both not angels," Aguilera says. "It got to a point where our life at home was reminding me of my own childhood. I will not have my son grow up in a tension-filled home."

And the singer, who's no stranger to life in the public eye, knew it wouldn't be an easy process.

"I knew there would be a negative reaction in the press to my divorce, but I am not going to live my life because of something someone might say."

NOT A FIGHT Crystal Harris says leaving Hugh Hefner less than a week before their wedding was "the right thing to do," she reveals in an interview with Ryan Seacrest.

"He was just doing this wedding for me. He thought that's what I wanted. We're both relieved."

She also insists rumors of a blowout between the two are untrue.

"It was mutual between Hef and I," Harris says. "There was no fight. We sat down and we talked about it."

She claims they are still together and everything is fine otherwise.

Selena Gomez co-hosts the MMVAs

IAN GORMELY
SCENE@METRONEWS.CA

Since its inception, the MuchMusic Video Awards have always had the feel of a star-studded street party. Behind the scenes though, a lot of planning goes into choreographing the chaos on Queen Street.

"It's one of those shows where anything could happen," says Neil Staite, MuchMusic's director of operations.

"You're not only building for what you want the show to be, but what could happen. And sometimes those are two very different things."

Key to the spontaneous appeal of the MMVAs every year are the fans who flock to the corner to catch a glimpse of their favourite artists. The energy they generate rubs off on the performers and presenters, says Staite.

Of course the crowds can make getting the presenters to their mark on time a problem. Besides the party on Queen Street, Much also holds a reception inside the building.

Every person appearing on the program gets a wrangler who rehearses from Friday on every possible route and detour to get that artist where they need to be on time.

The show's writers also have a hand in corralling the chaos. They research each presenter before writing a word, says Jason Ford, the supervising producer.

"We always try to make sure we can deliver the ultimate fan access. They're an integral part of the show."
NEIL STAITE, MUCHMUSIC'S DIRECTOR OF OPERATIONS

They'll then consult with each artist, sending drafts back and forth in an effort to capture the artist's true voices. Still, they leave plenty of room for off-the-cuff moments. This year Justin Bieber's girlfriend, Selena Gomez, is co-hosting the show and the Biebs has been hinting over Twitter that he might make an appearance.

"That's the kind of thing we'd be prepared for," says Staite.

If it's liquid, I love it. So, I'm sure my father doesn't mind this Father's Day that while I inherited his appreciation for a fine pint of beer, I also spread my love around the wine and spirit world, too.

That said, beer does hold a special place in my heart. It was the first taste of booze I ever had thanks to my grandfather. (No emails folks. I spit it out much to the enjoyment of dear old Da).

Times have changed. Small North American cottage breweries are red hot for reinventing old school British ales and light beer is on guys' radar because we, too, watch calories.

Though the flavour profile of lighter beers varies dramatically, the addition of a citrus element really levels the drinking field.

Molson Canadian 67 Sublime (12 x 341 ml, $18.12 - $22.99) has a surprisingly robust lemon/lime appeal that adds volumes to what is a pretty subtle beer. Meanwhile, the 100 calorie Miller Chill Lemon (12 x 355 ml, $21.50 - $23.99) pumps up the volume of refreshing malt. PRICES REFLECT THE RANGE ACROSS CANADA. ▶ This T-Bone Steak recipe (a favourite of Alex Rodriguez) makes four servings.

Grilled T-Bone Steaks with Balsamic Onion Confit

There aren't many dishes more satisfying than a sizzling steak with savory side dishes. Alex Rodriguez likes his sides tasty and free of unnecessary fat and calories. This slow-cooked confit fits the bill.

Preparation:

1. Melt butter in skillet over medium heat. Add onions and salt; stir well. Add 1 cup water. Cook, stirring, until water evaporates and onions soften, about 20 mins. Stir another cup of water into onions. Cook, stirring, until water evaporates and onions are tender and begin to brown, about 20 mins.
2. Stir in vinegar and honey. Cook, stirring often, until onions are caramelized and liquids syrupy, about 10 mins. Remove from heat and cover skillet to keep onions warm.
3. Prepare fire in grill. Season steaks with salt and pepper; let stand at room temperature while grill heats. Lightly oil grill grate. Place steaks on grill; cover. Grill, turning after 3 minutes, until tops of steaks feel firmer than raw when pressed, about 7 mins for medium-rare.
4. Transfer each steak to dinner plate. Top with onions and serve.

These delicious corncakes feature a cinnamon-honey yogurt topping

MATTHEW MEAD/ THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

▶ This recipe makes six servings.

Ingredients:

- 175 ml (3/4 cup) stone-ground cornmeal
- 125 ml (1/2 cup) all-purpose flour
- 125 ml (1/2 cup) whole-wheat flour
- 5 ml (1 tsp) baking powder
- 30 ml (2 tbsp) sugar
- 2 ml (1/2 tsp) salt
- 300 ml (1 1/4 cups) skim milk
- 300 ml (1 1/4 cups) plain non-fat Greek-style yogurt (divided)
- 30 ml (2 tbsp) vegetable or canola oil, plus more for the griddle
- 4 egg whites
- 50 ml (1/4 cup) honey, or more to taste
- 2 ml (1/2 tsp) ground cinnamon

Preparation:

1. In a large bowl, whisk together cornmeal, both flours, baking powder, sugar and salt.
2. In a medium bowl, whisk together milk, 50 ml (1/4 cup) of the yogurt and oil. Add dry ingredients and stir until blended.
3. In another medium bowl, use an electric mixer to beat egg whites to stiff peaks. Gently fold egg whites into batter.
4. Lightly oil a large heavy non-stick skillet or griddle and heat over medium. Working in batches, use about 50 ml (1/4 cup) batter per pancake to make 12 pancakes. Cook until browned and puffed, about 5 minutes per side. Transfer to a plate and cover with foil to keep warm. Repeat with remaining batter.
5. Meanwhile, to make topping, in a small bowl, whisk together honey, cinnamon and remaining 250 ml (1 cup) of yogurt. Serve corncakes with yogurt topping spooned on top.

Home-Cured Bacon

Ingredients:

- 500 ml (2 cups) kosher salt
- 500 ml (2 cups) packed brown sugar
- 15 ml (1 tbsp) ground black pepper
- 1 kg (2 lb) pork belly

Preparation:

1. In a bowl, mix together salt, sugar and pepper. Add any additional seasonings, as desired.
2. Find a container that will hold pork belly comfortably with 2.5 to 5 cm (1 to 2 inches) of space on all sides. A casserole dish is a good choice. Spoon about half of the salt mixture into the container, spreading it in an even layer. Set pork belly over salt, pressing it gently into salt mixture. Pack remaining salt mixture over and around pork.
3. Refrigerate, uncovered, for 6 to 7 days. Remove slab of pork belly (now bacon) from salt mixture. The bottom will resemble wet sand. Discard salt mixture. Rinse bacon under cool running water. Pat bacon dry with a clean towel. Use a very sharp knife to cut bacon into slices, then refrigerate up to 5 days or freeze up to 3 months.
4. Fry or otherwise cook the home-cured bacon as you would purchased bacon.

▶ Stuffing and grilling French Toast gives it a new flavour.

Stuffed Brioche French Toast made on the grill? Yup, it's possible

Preparation:

1. Arrange six slices of brioche in baking pan. Spread each slice with 1 ounce of cream cheese, leaving a one–half–inch border at edges. Spread each of other six slices with tablespoon of jam, and then invert them onto the halves with cream cheese, making sandwiches.
2. In bowl whisk the eggs, milk, half–and–half, sugar, vanilla, orange zest, and salt. Pour mix over sandwiches, and let stand at room temperature for 20 minutes, turning once.
3. Lightly spray the peaches with oil. Then prepare the grill for direct and indirect cooking over medium–low heat (about 350°F).
4. Brush cooking grates clean. Tip one sandwich on its side so that any extra liquid runs off. Spray both sides with oil and then place on grill. Repeat with the remaining sandwiches. Grill over direct medium–low heat, with lid closed as much as possible until browned on both sides, 6 to 8 minutes, turning once. Move sandwiches onto piece of foil placed over indirect medium–low heat, close the lid, and continue cooking until the sandwiches are firm in the centre, about 5 minutes. At the same time, grill the peaches over direct medium–low heat until the flesh is marked and the peaches are warm, 5 to 10 minutes, turning once or twice. Remove from the grill and cut the peach quarters in half lengthwise. Serve sandwiches hot with the peaches on top.

Bombers pre-season begins with loss to Grey Cup champions

Brandon London and Bo Bowling caught touchdown passes and Emmanuel Marc ran one in as the Montreal Alouettes downed the Winnipeg Blue Bombers 27-15 in CFL pre-season action Thursday night.
Alex Henderson and Chris Garrett ran in TDs for the Bombers, who are looking to bounce back from a 4-14 season in 2010.
Both teams rested several top veterans, including quarterbacks Anthony Calvillo of Montreal and Buck Pierce of Winnipeg. Joey Elliot quarterbacked the first half and Alex Brink played most of the second for Winnipeg.

MTS Centre keeps its name

- MTS Allstream digs deep to keep its name on Winnipeg arena now that NHL is in town
- Name for team no longer expected to be announced before next Tuesday's meeting

Homegrown telecom company MTS Allstream has decided to ante up to keep its name on what will now be an NHL arena in Winnipeg, but the name of the team remains unknown.

The new deal for the MTS Centre extends until 2021 with an option to continue. MTS president Pierre Blouin wouldn't say how much was paid, but he confirmed it was a lot more than when the American Hockey League's Manitoba Moose played at the arena.

"We just have to manage our way through and, whether it's next week or the following week, get to the point where we can make the right decision and the right announcement at the right time."
TRUE NORTH'S JIM LUDLOW, ON WHEN THE TEAM'S NAME WILL BE ANNOUNCED

"Because of its importance, it's a few times more," he said Thursday, adding that MTS didn't waste a lot of time taking the plunge. "I would call it a no-brainer decision."

The original agreement was the best corporate sponsorship the Winnipeg-based company had ever secured, Blouin said. Adding the NHL brand sweetens it a lot.

"It's a huge exposure in terms of brand in terms of name throughout the country."

MTS is a dominant player in both the wired and wireless worlds in Manitoba but has a tiny footprint nationally compared with companies such as Telus, Rogers and Bell.

Besides getting the naming rights, MTS also outfits the arena with its network and broadcast hardware.

Jim Ludlow, president of True North Sports and Entertainment, also refused to say how much the deal is worth, but confirmed it's the biggest sponsorship agreement the agency has. He suggested it sets a new benchmark for naming deals in smaller NHL markets.

As for the new team's name, Ludlow is no longer predicting it will come before Tuesday's NHL board of governors meeting, where the sale of the Thrashers to True North is expected to be approved.

Bruins bring cup to Boston

The Stanley Cup glistened in the morning sun, the nearly 35-pound symbol of NHL supremacy raised high over the head of 255-pound Zdeno Chara.

Then, the captain of the champion Boston Bruins lowered it to his knees. He patiently answered reporters' questions after a night of little sleep and much joy on a flight across North America — from the disappointed city of Vancouver to the title town of Boston.

For the six-foot-nine defenceman and his teammates the heavy lifting was over.

The celebration was on.

"We are pretty OK with that weight," Chara said Thursday, the cup in his grasp as it was when he hoisted it after the Bruins' 4-0 win in Game 7 over the Canucks less than 12 hours earlier.

He walked over to some of the roughly 500 fans who had gathered outside TD Garden, where the Bruins outscored the Canucks 17-3 during the final. He let some of them touch the coveted trophy that hadn't been in Bruins hands in 39 years.

"It's unbelievable. It's very exciting for the whole city, for us, for the whole organization. It's a very special day," said Chara. "We're very honoured to be here. We're so happy."

They won with Brad Marchand, a rookie pest, and Patrice Bergeron, who missed most of the 2007-08 season with a concussion. Each had two goals in the clincher.

"We went out there on a mission, came back champions," Marchand said. "We proved we were the best team in the world."

There will be many more fans lining the streets Saturday for a parade scheduled for 10 a.m., Boston's seventh in the past decade following championship celebrations for the Patriots, Red Sox and Celtics.

BOSTON BRUINS

Cup winners should be able to keep team intact

The Boston Bruins should have an easier time repeating than the last team to win the Stanley Cup.

Unlike the Chicago Blackhawks of a year ago, the Bruins are well-positioned under the salary cap to bring back virtually the same squad that ended a long championship drought.

In fact, only four players that suited up for Wednesday's Game 7 victory over the Vancouver Canucks are headed for free agency and one of them, 43-year-old forward Mark Recchi, is retiring.

No wonder some members of the team took a break between sips of champagne to look ahead.

"The future looks bright with all the guys that we have," said Bruins forward Patrice Bergeron, who had two goals in the deciding game.

If anything, general manager Peter Chiarelli might be looking to add a few pieces. He has $52.2 million US committed to 18 players next season — leaving him roughly $10 million to spend with the cap expected to be set around $62 million.

He will also likely get back the $4 million in cap space dedicated to forward Marc Savard, who is expected to retire because of ongoing concussion symptoms.

Chiarelli's biggest decision will be determining the fate of defenceman Tomas Kaberle, who failed to provide the power-play boost the Bruins were looking for when they acquired him from Toronto midway through the year. The veteran earned $4.25 million this season and is an unrestricted free agent.

Forward Michael Ryder is also eligible to become unrestricted July 1 after earning $4 million.

The only other Bruins regular in need of a contract is Brad Marchand, who earned himself some extra money by scoring 11 times in the playoffs, including two in Game 7 of the final. The pesky forward is a restricted free agent who averaged a little more than $821,000 on his entry-level deal. THE CANADIAN PRESS

Seven points to watch this CFL season

CFL EXTRA POINTS

DAN TOTH
WINNIPEG@METRONEWS.CA

Let's kick off the 2011 CFL campaign with seven questions that should get answered between the season openers on Canada Day weekend to the time the Grey Cup is hoisted Nov. 27 in Vancouver.

1 Needing 4,200 yards to overtake Damon Allen as the CFL's career passing yards leader, Anthony Calvillo still can't get his name on many lists of the CFL's all-time greatest quarterbacks. Critics argue Calvillo lacks arm strength and mobility, both valid claims, and that his career stats are the product of longevity instead of talent. Yet late this season, A.C. should eclipse Allen's passing mark, a staggering stat north of 72,000 yards, while challenging for a third consecutive Grey Cup ring. Will it finally be enough to help Calvillo receive the respect he deserves?

2 Greg Marshall has waited a lifetime to earn his first head coaching job, taking over from Ken Miller as Saskatchewan's boss. Countless times Marshall has been a bridesmaid when CFL teams were courting head coaches, despite earning respect as one of the league's top defensive gurus. Marshall deserves this opportunity, but when a candidate gets passed over that many times, you have to wonder: Do other teams know something the Riders don't?

3 The Calgary Stampeders have been a perennial Grey Cup contender since QB Henry Burris arrived in 2005. But with just one championship ring in six seasons and after two straight West final losses, is time running out for the 36-year-old Burris and his talented group to claim another?

4 B.C. Lions boss Wally Buono believes in QB Travis Lulay so deeply he has given the young pivot the starting role in Vancouver. Will the green Montana slinger develop into a quarterback the likes of Dave Dickenson or Jeff Garcia, two other top passers Buono helped groom?

5 The Edmonton Eskimos aren't used to losing and have handed the controls to GM Eric Tillman, who will guide an intense rebuilding program. With a new coaching staff, can Tillman quickly produce the winning results green and gold fans demand?

6 For the second consecutive season, the Toronto Argos are destined to enter the season without a legitimate starting quarterback. The three main contenders — Cleo Lemon, a failure last season, along with backups Steven Jyles and Dalton Bell — hardly strike fear in the hearts of opponents. Who is going to help the Argos find the end zone?

7 Winnipeg's 4-14 record last season hardly suggests the team is on the verge of a Grey Cup appearance, but nine of those losses were by four points or less. Can Winnipeg turn those close losses into victories in 2011 and earn a playoff spot?

#ADL2011

LIVE CONCERT AT 8PM FEATURING:

Lil Pappie
Though Lil Pappie has transitioned into pop music, his early glam rock days are still evident in his high-energy live performances.

Ray St. Germain
Known as "Winnipeg's Elvis" his music has taken him around the world. He's performed with such greats as Johnny Cash, Porter Wagoner, and Johnny Horton.

Winnipeg's Most
Comprised of three MC's – Charlie Fettah, Jon-C and Brooklyn, Winnipeg's Most are a cut above your regular local talent, both flamboyant, and rugged.

Andrea Menard
A multi-award winning, Métis singer/songwriter and actress whose third album Sparkle celebrates the glittering winter and the urge to go deep within.

Dey & Nite
These beautiful American twins began playing the piano at the age of nine, began singing at twelve and wrote their first song at fourteen.

Red Power Squad
Formed in early 1998, this group was designed to give inner-city youth a way out of all the negativity that they faced daily.

Derek Miller
With his unique take on roots rock, and soul-stirring blues, singer/songwriter/guitarist Derek Miller is a force of musical nature.

Aboriginal School of Dance
Choreography that showcases evolved forms of dance, merging traditional and contemporary styles, and provokes an intense emotional experience in people of all cultural backgrounds

Elisapie Isaac
This Inuk singer, composer and filmmaker's solo debut is the much anticipated follow up to the internationally acclaimed, award winning duo Taima.

William Prince
A Canadian rock quartet frontman who blends country, folk, rock, pop and hip-hop, there is no shortage of excitement in every track he produces.
